Council blasted over hospital winter ward

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertssexnews.co.uk

A FORMER Harlow councillor has criticised the authority for allowing building work on a temporary winter ward at Princess Alexandra Hospital to start without planning permission.

Construction of the £2.8m building on part of the hospital's main visitors car park began last month, even though Harlow Council has not yet officially sanctioned the work.

This week former Conservative councillor Lee Dangerfield, pictured right, accused Harlow Council of "running roughshod over planning rules".

Mr Dangerfield, who resigned as a councillor in 2010, said: "I think it's good for the town to get this new ward and I congratulate the hospital, but I feel residents have been let down by the council who seem to have run roughshod over the rules. What is the point of having a planning committee?"

"If someone decides to build a granny flat and doesn't have planning permission then they would have a planning officer on them immediately."

A planning application has now been submitted and a decision is expected later this month.

However, council leader Mark Wilkinson said it was not unusual for building work to start while an application is being determined.

"Investment in the hospital's temporary ward to deal with winter demand to help reduce waiting lists and avoid the cancellation of routine operations is welcomed by the council and the benefit it will have for residents," he said.

"A planning application was submitted to the council on November 12 and is subject to statutory consultation. The application is expected to be determined by the development management committee by the end of December.

"It is normal practice for council officers to discuss plans with an applicant ahead of them submitting a planning application and it is not unusual for an organisation, business or individual to start building work while the planning application is being determined."

Mr Dangerfield said hospital staff and, since the work began, visitors were now using residential roads around the hospital as an alternative car park.

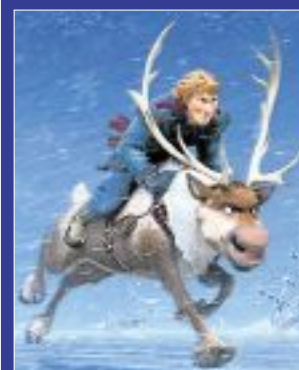

He said these problems should have been addressed prior to work going ahead.

When the hospital announced it would be building the ward it said alternative patient and visitor parking spaces would be provided around the site.

Parking for staff displaced from their normal areas to make way for visitors includes 60 extra places at the nearby Linkway multi-storey car park.

Tributes paid teen victim of car crash

STAFF at Mark Hall Academy in Harlow have spoken of their shock at the news that a former pupil was killed in a car accident.

Connor Ashmore, who came from Sheering, died following a road crash at Hatfield Heath on Friday night.

He was killed when his green Vauxhall Corsa left the road and collided with a tree stump in Pond Lane.

The 19-year-old was a former pupil at Mark Hall School - now Mark Hall Academy.

A spokeswoman for the school told the Star yesterday (Wednesday): "Connor attended Mark Hall from 2005-2007.

"There are still staff and students here who knew him and they have been shocked and saddened by this news.

"Some of our older students have visited the scene of this terrible accident to lay flowers and have expressed to us their fond memories of Connor.

"We are extremely sorry to hear of his death and our thoughts are with his family and friends at this sad time."

The accident happened at about 11.10pm. Connor was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital in Harlow but died on arrival.

Officers from the Essex Police Serious Collision Investigation Unit are appealing for information about the accident.

Any witnesses who have not yet contacted police or anyone with information about events leading up to the crash should be asked to contact PC Dawn Senior on 101 or email collisionappeal@essex.pnn.police.uk.

● Leave your own tribute to Connor on the Star website at www.harlowstar.co.uk.

Community mark Interfaith Week with lunch

CELEBRATE:
Cllr Linda Pailing

HARLOW Council, the Gibberd Gallery, Harlow College and various other community members marked Interfaith Week with a photography competition.

College students in the first year of their photography A-level were asked to produce a series of images on the theme of 'quiet reflection'. The best three photographs were selected at the Interfaith Week lunch at the Gibberd Gallery and are now on display at the Civic Centre.

The event was held to celebrate diversity within the town's community and the photography competition was aimed at raising awareness among students of the importance of a society that values different faiths.

Lauren Hurley took the top spot in the competition with Sophie Bennett awarded second place.

Corrina Dunlea, director of the Gibberd Gallery, said: "The students have done extremely well to prepare their fantastic images in a short space of time. The quality of their work made it easier for us to commend work and pick the winners.

"The partnership working between the college, Harlow Council and Harlow Art Trust has been really impressive and I'm really pleased about the way that everyone has enthusiastically embraced this project."

Paul Jarvis, A-level photography tutor at Harlow College, said: "This has been a fantastic experience for my students to take the theme of quiet reflection and to produce such fantastic work."

Family face eviction from asbestos home

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A FAMILY forced to leave their home because of asbestos are facing eviction after falling into arrears.

The Fry family were moved out of their Harlow Council home and into temporary accommodation in April after asbestos was found in the property.

Since October Steven, 37, Cindy, 34, and their three children have been relying on the goodwill of their family after the council removed them from their temporary accommodation.

Mr Fry has now fallen into rent arrears and could face eviction from his home after his housing and council tax benefits were stopped.

"I wasn't aware but by not living in the property, those benefits were stopped which helped me pay what I needed to," Mr Fry said.

"As a result we've fallen into rent arrears and are now being told we face eviction. I only found out because I had to go back to see if we had any post."

The property was environmentally cleaned but Mr Fry claimed it was still in a "bad condition".

The family were offered another property by Harlow Council which Mr Fry said was "just as bad."

He added: "We have lost all our possessions because they could have been contaminated by the asbestos, we have nowhere safe or clean to live and it seems to be a really vicious situation.

"We thought we'd be home by now but it looks like we won't have a home for Christmas."

Cllr Rod Truan, portfolio holder for housing, said the home was cleaned "in accordance with normal procedures" before specialist companies carried out independent asbestos checks.

He said: "Both companies found no trace of asbestos dust and deemed the property safe to live in.

"We allowed the family extra time in temporary accommodation and made offers to them of suitable permanent accommodation which have now been successfully re-let to other families. We have done everything we can to meet the family's needs."

a bus to the town centre*SIR, On a wet weekday afternoon at Harlow Town station a dozen or so passengers waited 30 minutes for a bus to the town centre.

It is now quicker to travel the 20 miles from Tottenham Hale to Harlow Town than it is to travel the one mile from the train station to the bus terminus.

A mother with two young children in a pushchair asked which bus to catch to the hospital. I had to tell her that there was no longer a direct service - it was a choice of taxi or walking so she set off in the rain to walk the mile to the hospital. I told her to take care at the Burnt Mill roundabout as with all the work taking place it is a real hazard.

If the Arriva 5 route was changed to become a dedicated circular route - rail station&gt;bus station&gt;hospital&gt;Little Parndon&gt;rail station - it would provide a much-needed service to PAH connecting the rail and bus stations and serving local travellers.

Is anybody listening? Does anybody care?

Ron Bill
Upper Park, HarlowConsult the Highway Code to learn roundabout etiquette*SIR, In response to Terri Sinclair's comment about the use of the roundabouts (Letters, November 28), may I respectfully refer her to rules 184-190 inclusive in the current copy of the Highway Code.

These state: "When taking the first exit to the left, unless signs or markings indicate otherwise, signal left and approach in the left hand lane. Keep to the left on the roundabout and continue signalling left to leave."

"When taking an exit to the right or going full circle, unless signs or markings indicate otherwise, signal right and approach in the right hand lane. Keep to the right on the roundabout until you need to change lanes to exit the roundabout. Signal left after you have passed the exit before the one you want."

"When taking an intermediate exit, unless signs or markings indicate otherwise, select the appropriate lane on approach to the roundabout; you should not normally need to signal on approach. Stay in this lane until you need to alter course to exit the roundabout. Signal left after you have passed the exit before the one you want."

"When there are more than three lanes at the entrance to a roundabout, use the most appropriate lane on approach and through it."

Going straight on comes under "when taking an intermediate exit" so you may use either lane to achieve this.

The problem that most road users have is that they fail to keep up with the changes in the Highway Code, so the driver abusing Ms Sinclair is incorrect in their rant that she was in the wrong lane.

Unfortunately, the method quoted was

Stop reaping rewards of the struggles of others*SIR, Jakob Gasak's letter in response to Clare Harrison (Star, November 28) highlights the anger and despair of indigenous English people.

For a man with no connections whatsoever with this country to claim his rights to benefits here shows a total lack of understanding and of the discontent of the vast majority of the English.

He should see the fact that he is entitled to vote in our elections as the insidious measure that it is, brought about by contriving politicians as a process in the establishment and consolidation of the EU.

Go home Mr Gasak and work hard to bring your own country to a better standard rather than abandon it as you and so many of your fellow countrymen now have done.

To do that would bring you far more satisfaction than to settle here and reap the rewards of the work, suffering and struggles of others.

Roy Beale
address suppliedSIR, It is not Jakob Gasak's right to enjoy benefits such as housing. He is a guest in our country and should not forget it.

Yes, he came from a poorer country via the EU but this does not give him the right to tell Ms Harrison to move to another country. She is one of many people who think along the same lines about immigrants getting far better treatment than those of us who have worked a lifetime, paying our way, only to find what was once a great place to be proud of is now a dumping ground for almost anybody who wants to come here.

If politicians of the day had taken note of Enoch Powell back in the 1960s we wouldn't be in this mess now. But successive governments since have refused to acknowledge this very intelligent man and every word he uttered in his "rivers of blood" speech has come true.

We do not have enough schools, housing or jobs to go around yet people are still flooding to the UK. We should look again at the reasons for joining the EU, which was for trade until our politicians started with human rights agreements and signed away our individuality to Brussels.

We need a strong government that can give us our country back and not let us be the poor minority.

Rod Teese
address suppliedSIR, Why does Jakob Gasak think he is more entitled to housing in this town than people who have been born here?

My parents came to this town in the early 1950s and they were promised that second generation would be housed.

I can understand Jakob is a hard worker but so am I. My son has been on the housing list for the last 10 years and has still not been housed. Due to the economic climate he cannot afford to buy. He has a daughter of five months and unfortunately he and his partner have to live apart.

Does Jakob live with his family? Well he is lucky. I think he should be ashamed of himself saying that people here should move to another country so he can have their council house.

Harlow Council have a lot to answer for; homes in Harlow should be for local people and also people whose parents moved here and made it the town that it is. Would Jakob be housed in his own country?

I am not a racist and appreciate that many people from the EU come here to make a better life for themselves, but Jakob's comments are unacceptable and could cause a lot of friction to the people of Harlow.

name and address supplied

SIR, In response to Jakob Gasak, how lucky you are. I, too, am on the housing list and have been for more than 10 years.

I was born in Harlow, work in this town and my family live here, too. Despite all this I am on Band 4 which means I haven't a hope of ever being housed. Oh yes, and I pay tax.

No wonder the council creates bad feeling in this town.

Sir Frederick Glibberd, who designed Harlow New Town, said Harlow homes for Harlow people. How wrong was he?

Darren Prasland
Linford End, HarlowTories cannot wash their hands of bank scandal*SIR, Guy Mitchinson's letter (Star, November 28) is as opportunist as it is predictable.

The Paul Flower's affair reflects badly on the Tories as well as Labour as only last year Chancellor George Osborne pressurized the EU to spare the Co-op from tougher rules being applied to big listed banks in the wake of the banking crash.

Politicians on all sides were keen to see the Co-op treated as a respectable, trustworthy bank and a good option for the purchase of the Lloyds-TSB chain, which in the end did not happen.

Tory attempts to attach the scandal exclusively to Labour are another example of them being economical with the actuality.

Considering the Tories have been bankrolled by non-dom Michael Ashcroft for years and currently we have two of Mr Cameron's closest buddies (Andy Coulson and Rebekah Brooks) in court for the phone hacking scandal. I can only advise Cllr Mitchinson that people in glass houses should not throw stones.

Robert Johnson
Wissants, Harlow

the traditional time-honoured method but it is not in accordance with the current edition of the Highway Code. I hope this helps clarify the situation.

Nickolas Reek
address suppliedSIR, Terri Sinclair's comments about driver behaviour at roundabouts and her opinion as to the correct lane to use when approaching The Stow roundabout have some merit.

However, as in all driving manoeuvres, we should always be ultra observant to anticipate and be prepared for the unexpected.

One could argue that the right hand lane can be used for the second or third exits depending on the apparent intention of the vehicle in the left hand lane.

I use this roundabout regularly and always try to see what the vehicle on the inside lane is indicating. If it is clearly intending to turn left up Howard Way then I stay in the outside lane to go to the second exit. If it is not indicating then I assume that it may well be going straight across toward the town centre and, if I am in the outside lane, then I am watchful of that vehicle, indicate my intention and give way if this proves necessary.

The trouble is that some vehicles do not appear to have working indicators and we all have to check our crystal balls for the driver's intentions. Best to be watchful at all times and treat all other road users as complete idiots.

Abusive language should not be used as it will only increase stress levels for everyone.

Mick Rumens
address suppliedSIR, How I agree with Terri Sinclair but part of the problem is down to Essex County Council as it does not seem to understand the Highway Code either.

For example, the roundabout at Edinburgh Way/Queensgate Centre when approached from the west has had the outside lane changed from right turn only to right turn/straight ahead, which would be fine if you were entering a dual carriageway. But it isn't.

As Terri points out, there are an awful lot of people who ignore the rules. Today I witnessed an idiot approach the First Avenue roundabout at the town centre in the outside lane and turn left across the inside lane traffic.

How he didn't get hit by the car he cut up, God only knows, but sadly that sort of driving is common these days.

SPECIAL DELIVERY: St Clare Hospice retail manager Fiona Eaton, volunteer Alex and fundraising manager Anna Baldwin

Toy story has a happy ending for hospice

A SPECIAL Christmas delivery of toys arrived at St Clare Hospice this week as part of a donation drive on ITV's Daybreak.

Viewers were encouraged to donate items as part of the breakfast show's Toy Box appeal for Help the Hospices in partnership with Toys R Us.

More than 6,000 toys were donated across the UK, which were then distributed to hospices around the country, with St Clare receiving 100 to raffle at fundraising events and sell in the hospice's shops.

St Clare fundraising manager Anna Baldwin said: "The Toy Box appeal really struck a chord with ITV viewers who gave generously and have showered our hospice with donations of toys.

"We are really grateful to Daybreak for organising this appeal to support the work of hospices, which provide vital care for children and adults.

"In addition to increasing toy donations, the appeal really helped raise public awareness about the value of hospice care."

RESIDENTS are being given the chance to have their say on plans for a new junction on the M11 at Harlow.

Essex County Council has launched a consultation on the 7A junction proposals which supporters say will ease traffic congestion, bring jobs and boost house prices.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who has campaigned for the new junction since 2004, said: "I made my maiden speech in the House of Commons about it.

"The consultation is the first step in this all-important project that will radically change Harlow: it will bring in new investments, create up to 3,000 new jobs, boost house prices in east and north Harlow and ease traffic congestion.

"Effectively this junction will unlock Harlow and the potential that comes with its great location."

Mr Halfon continued: "Harlow people now have the chance to see the proposals and make their opinions heard.

"This junction is a great, long-awaited opportunity for Harlow and I strongly encourage all Harlow residents to attend the public exhibitions that are part of the consultation and share their thoughts with Essex County Council."

Chamber of Commerce manager Ian Hudson said the business community was spilt over the proposal.

He said: "There is a view that it should be further north and another that it is in such desperate need that it just needs to get done. Everybody seems to be in agreement that something needs to be done but there seem to be two schools of thought.

"Many believe the junction should be further north, though it would be much more expensive and cost four times as much, many think that if we're going to have it done we need to do it properly.

"From a personal point of view I am in the middle but something does need to be done. The worry is that in the short term it will not help but make problems worse."

Residents can find out more at a series of exhibitions. These will be at Harlow Civic Centre in The Water Gardens in St Johns Road and Epping Library until January 31, 2014.

There will also be an informative session at the Churchgate Hotel today (Thursday) and on December 9 at Harlow Civic Centre.

Union anger at assaults on hospital staff

PRINCESS Alexandra Hospital workers have been assaulted more than 80 times in the past two years, new figures show.

Data released by NHS Protect shows that in 2011/12 44 assaults were reported and a further 40 in 2012/13.

Of the assaults this year there have been only three convictions.

Tim Roberts, regional organiser for the union Unison, which represents staff in the NHS, said: "It is absolutely unacceptable that so many hospital staff were assaulted in Essex last year.

"Sadly, this is only the tip of the iceberg as violence on NHS premises remains an under-reported problem. No one should feel threatened at work.

"Our members work day in day out, providing life saving care despite the stresses caused by the Government's attacks on the health service."

Mr Roberts added: "The cuts and resultant pressure on services are causing growing patient frustration especially in hospitals, and have significantly impacted on staff's ability to cope."

NOSTALGIA

Residents celebrate twin town friendship

SOME of Harlow's roads were named after a person, a Royal visit or a special event in the town's history. Velizy Avenue is no exception.

Velizy - Harlow's twin town in France - lends its name to the road alongside Harlow College.

Back in 1986 more than 170 Harlow residents renewed their friendships with people from the French town and celebrated doing so with a trip to the south-western suburbs of Paris.

The photograph above has been reproduced from Harlow Council's newsletter of June 1986 which was bought in by local historian Ron Bill. The picture shows the Harlow residents with their French hosts.

According to the newspaper, a group who formed part of the Harlow Town Twinning Association visited their French neighbours to take part in various sporting and cultural activities including badminton, bridge and a photography exhibition organised by the Harlow Photographic Society.

The weekend trip also included a dinner and dance with more than 250 people in attendance.

The weekend ended with a concert at the Maurice Ravel Centre where dancers, bands and majorettes from Velizy were joined by The Harlow Band and pupils from the Brenda Taylor School of Dance.

The trip was organised by Harlow Town Twinning Association and in 1987, Harlow celebrated its tenth anniversary with Velizy.

The town twinning movement started in Europe in the 19th century and continued after the Second World War in the hope of bringing Europe closer together and to promote cross-border projects and activities that could benefit both towns.

Harlow is still twinned with Velizy and has also added to its list Havirov in the Czech Republic and Stravanger in Norway.

Striking a pose with statue of Eve

THE public works of art on show around the town have helped the town achieve its status as a 'sculpture town' - the first in the UK.

The town has more than 100 public works of art including works by Henry Moore, Barbara Hepworth, Rodin, Elizabeth Frink and Lynn Chadwick.

This photograph, shared by Marlene Scanlan Brooks, is of her late father Bill Scanlan, posing next to

Eve in the Water Gardens in 1965. "When I was little there were no sculptures yet in the town it was just a dirt track. We were one of the first to move in the new town when I was eight," said Marlene said.

Home-grown West End star

A YOUNG actress from Harlow will be featuring on millions of television screens across the country as she performs on The Royal Variety show.

Charlotte Spencer, 22, who studied at the Brenda Taylor School of Dance & Performing Arts, performed a scene from Andrew Lloyd Webber's new West End show Stephen Ward with Alexandar Hanson.

Charlotte, who plays the role of society model Christine Keeler in the musical, stars in The Royal Variety Performance which will be shown on television on Monday.

Charlotte, who is also the voice of children's cartoon character Angelina Ballerina, said: "It was scary being on The Royal Variety Performance but brilliant. I was a nervous wreck before getting on stage and then it just melts away."

Stephen Ward, which is based on the Profumo scandal which rocked British politics in the 1960s, will be her first musical in four years, having taken a break from the stage to step in front of the camera where she featured in Hollywood productions including Wild Bill, Les Misérables, and Dark Shadows.

"Rehearsals are going great," she said. "Filming is brilliant but the feeling you get on stage is thrilling - it's a scary, adrenalin rush."

"I like the reality of films which you don't always get with a musical but Stephen Ward is really exciting. It's based on a true story which I'm really interested by. I'm really looking forward to opening night."

Charlotte left Brenda Taylor's Performing Arts School to study at the Sylvia Young's Theatre School and took to the stage as a youngster in Mary Poppins.

Ms Taylor said: "I am so thrilled for Charlotte, she is a lovely, very talented girl."

"She was in our show in February and was helping the children and sorting out costumes. It's great to have old students come back and inspire our youngsters."

"She is delightful. It's always lovely to hear about our students doing so well."

Charlotte's parents - Peter, 49, and

Karen Spencer, 44 - said: "We're all very proud of her. I'm proud of all three of my children - they all have a career in something they enjoy."

Charlotte's sister Jodie, 19, is a midwife and her younger brother Perry, 18, is a personal trainer.

MP backs new measures to control payouts to immigrants

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has voiced his support for new measures which will limit benefits and NHS 'tourism' for new immigrants to the UK.

The measures will prevent European jobseekers having access to benefits during their first three months in the UK, require a minimum period of residence for an EU national to qualify for council and social housing as well as a minimum earning and the ability for the NHS to claim back costs of treating EU nationals who are not living in the UK.

Mr Halfon said: "The Prime Minister is working with other countries who also want reform and we are putting the choice about our future in Europe in a referendum."

"If the Conservatives are in charge after the next election, the British people will have their say. Labour could have stopped people from new EU countries from coming here for seven years but - almost alone in Europe - Labour take tough decisions."

He added: "This Government has extended controls on immigrants from Bulgaria and Romania from five to the maximum seven years and is committed to introducing new measures to control immigration."

Charlotte looks to the Grand Canyon for big challenge

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A TEACHER is hoping to raise thousands for a cancer charity by trekking the Grand Canyon.

Charlotte Riley, pictured right, decided she wanted to do something after a friend's father, a close colleague and her uncle were all diagnosed with cancer earlier this year.

It inspired her to take on the challenge for Marie Curie Cancer Care.

The 29-year-old, who taught at Mark Hall Academy in Harlow and is now a supply teacher, is hoping to raise £3,500 for the charity when she undertakes the trek in May. She will walk 10 miles a day through the Grand Canyon.

"I chose to do this because I thought I am not going to be able to fix people but I can help others and I wanted to do something positive instead of sit at home being sad," said Charlotte, who lives in Bishop's Stortford.

"I asked my uncle if he could go back to anywhere in the world where would he go. He said the Grand Canyon so it just started from there.

She added: "I am nervous.

I'm scared of flying - the furthest I have been is Portugal - so I need to overcome that first of all!

"I'm excited though and I cannot wait to do it. I'm just focusing on the fundraising at the moment and raising as much as I can before I go."

Charlotte will be hosting a quiz night to boost her total on December 11 at the Nag's Head in Bishop's Stortford. Tickets are £1 per person.

She will also be running a stall at Ashlyn Care Centre's Christmas bazaar in Harlow on December 21 where she will be selling handmade gifts. The bazaar will run from 2-5pm.

"I'll keep fundraising right up until I go in May," said Charlotte, who has already started training for the challenge.

"My family are quite proud. I just want to do something positive and hopefully help someone else."

Pamper event for Kisses4Kids

A CHARITY which helps children with life-limiting illnesses is hosting a pamper and Christmas shopping event at Harlow Cricket Club in Old Harlow.

The event, organised by Kisses4Kids trustee Sara Evans, will include stalls from The Body Shop, Usbourne Books, SX Bling and Scentsy Candles as well as pampering tables where visitors can have massages, manicures, pedicures and a Novatan.

The pamper evening will be held on Tuesday (December 10) from 7-10pm. Tickets are £2.50 and include tea or coffee, a mince pie and entry into the charity's prize draw.

Tickets can be bought on the door, by emailing Sara on saraevans@kisses4kids.org.uk or by visiting the Kisses4Kids Charity Facebook page.

New project to volunteer time

THE Volunteer Centre in Harlow is offering another form of volunteering in the hope that anyone can find a little time for a good cause.

Timebanking allows residents to give time when they are available to do so for however long they can.

Volunteer Centre organiser Della Nash said: "Not everyone can donate money or commit to regular volunteering but most people would still like to help and give time if they can."

"This new project is about time exchange, skills that can be shared to help the whole community at a time where many people cannot afford to buy in those skills."

To find out more about Timebanking contact Della on (01279) 308310 or visit Harlow Central Library on Tuesday (December 10) from 10am-3pm to talk to someone from the centre.

Lions holding Victorian fair

SANTA will join members of the Harlow Lions Club when they hold a Victorian Christmas fair at St John's ARC in Old Harlow this weekend.

Stalls at the fair will be selling Christmas gifts, cards and decorations as well as wooden toys. There will also be face painting, temporary tattoos, sweets, a tombola and other children's attractions.

The event will be held on Sunday from 11am-4pm and all proceeds from the fair will be spent on Christmas hampers for the elderly and other local causes.

St Clare Hospice lottery winners

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, November 29 is the holder of ticket number 69177. The winner lives in Harlow.

The second prize of £100 was won by ticket holder 882002 who also lives in Harlow.

Ruth completes adventure run for charity

A TEAM of 22 runners, including a Harlow businesswoman, have raised more than £6,500 for Motability - a charity which supports people's mobility needs.

Ruth O'Connor, who runs ROC Hair & Beauty in Old Harlow, helped organise various fundraising activities leading up to and after the event to boost the team's fundraising total.

The team completed the 12km Lactic Fallout which included more than 30 man-made and natural obstacles on farmland, rivers, ditches, woodland and bogs around Brentwood earlier this month.

Ruth said: "I am used to road running, so it was something completely different.

"I clambered through thick mud, pulled myself through ice-cold rivers and fell into and out of numerous ditches. It was a fantastic challenge and I am proud that we have raised so much money for Motability."

Aine Canavan, corporate accounts executive for the charity, said: "Our charitable grants programme supports disabled people who cannot afford the right car or adaptations for their needs or young disabled people with the cost of driving lessons."

"Money raised from events like this makes a big difference to disabled people."

MP behind petition to save Maples care centre

A PETITION against the closure of a respite care centre for children with special needs in Harlow has been launched.

The future of The Maples in Hodings Road, which provides respite breaks, is at risk after Essex County Council started a consultation to look at alternative ways of providing support.

Now Harlow MP Robert Halfon has started a petition to save the centre.

"The Maples is an integral part of our community and provides comfort and security to families and children with special needs," he said.

"I told staff at The Maples that I am going to do everything I can to support them. There are only two centres in the whole of Essex, so this is an issue that will not only have an effect in Harlow but the whole county."

The consultation runs until January 6.

Hospice win £50k in TV lottery cash vote

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FUNDRAISERS at St Clare Hospice are celebrating after securing £50,000 of funding by winning the People's Millions television vote.

ITV reporter Kate Prout returned to the hospice at Hastingwood to deliver the good news to staff, patients and volunteers and present a giant cheque for £49,832 to chief executive Tanya Curry and director of fundraising and marketing Elizabeth Palfreman.

The cash will be used to transform part of the garden into a tranquil oasis for patients and their families. Ms Curry said: "We are ecstatic to have won this incredible £50,000 from the Big Lottery so we can at last turn our vision for our 'Space to Breathe' family garden into a reality."

"This project simply would not be possible without this vital funding and it will make such a difference to the people we care for at the hospice. "To be able to give our patients and their loved ones a beautiful secluded outdoor haven to relax and spend time together has been on our wish-list for a long time and we are thrilled we can finally make it happen."

CASH BOOST: St Clare director of fundraising and marketing, Elizabeth Palfreman, receives the People's Millions cheque from ITV reporter Kate Prout

She added: "We received such amazing support from our community on voting day and the messages we received from people were truly inspiring, with some people telling us they had voted 40 or 50 times.

"We would like to say a huge thank you to each and every person who took the time to pick up the phone and vote for the hospice. We are over the moon!"

The 'Space to Breathe' garden, which has been designed by Stansted-based landscape architects Liz Lake Associates, will include a calming water feature, decorative planting and pots that gently glow to give the effect of candlelight among other features.

"We hope to get work under way in the spring for completion by the end of next year," said Ms Curry.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Two charged over filmed attack

TWO youths will appear in court later this month charged with a serious assault in Harlow which was filmed on mobile phones.

The incident happened at the rear of the library off Tilegate Road at 9.30pm on Thursday, July 4.

The 49-year-old victim had been walking along grassland when he was approached by a group of people who punched and kicked him until he lost consciousness. While the attack was taking place it was filmed on mobile telephones.

A 15-year-old from Jerounds, Harlow, has been charged by with wounding with intent while a 15-year-old boy from Enfield has been charged with grievous bodily harm with intent. Both will appear in youth court at Chelmsford Magistrates Court on December 13.

Teenager injured in hit-and-run

WITNESSES to a road accident in Harlow in which a 16-year-old pedestrian was injured are being sought by police.

The teenager's mother contacted officers on Thursday, November 14 to report that her son had been struck by a car in Tripton Road at the junction with Tendering Road at about 7pm that evening. He suffered cuts and grazing.

The driver of the car, described as a dark-coloured three-door vehicle which may be a Renault, failed to stop after the collision.

Witnesses are asked to call PC Steven Thomas on 101.

Muggers steal man's wallet

A MAN was attacked and robbed as he walked through Harlow in the early hours of the morning.

The victim, who is in his 20s, was walking along the track leading from Dads Wood and Playhouse Square at about 2.45am on Friday, November 15 when he was approached by two men. Police say they assaulted him, pushed him to the ground and then stole his wallet.

Take your pick from town's variety of shops offering great gift ideas

IT'S Christmas already in Sawbridgeworth as the lights twinkle and the town comes alive with a festive atmosphere.

There are a wealth of local businesses with gift ideas for everyone.

In and around Bell Street and Knight Street, you can take your pick from a variety of specialist shops including boutiques and gift shops. From luxury toiletries to elegant fashions, jewellery, beauty products and quality homeware, if you're looking for Christmas gift inspiration then look no further than Sawbridgeworth.

Traditional butchers and bakers, hairdressers and estate agents as well as a few banks and a small supermarket are all within easy walking distance of each other. And for a town of its size; Sawbridgeworth boasts its fair share of good quality restaurants, including Chinese, Indian and French, as well as several good, traditional pubs. There are also plenty of places where you can take a break from the shopping and enjoy a well-earned rest with a cup of coffee.

The Maltings, with its picturesque surroundings along the banks of the river, also boasts a superb selection of local businesses, with plenty of free parking and easy access.

The Isabel Hospice Lights of Love ceremony took place at Bakers Walk, off Bell Street, last weekend where there was a short service of remembrance and carol singing - a key event in the town's festive season.

Minister's tribute to PAH nurse

INTERNATIONAL Development Secretary Justine Greening has sent a message of condolence to Harlow's Filipino community.

In response to a question by Harlow MP Robert Halfon in the House of Commons, Ms Greening expressed her sorry at the death of Princess Alexandra Hospital nurse Jeffrey Ducusin, his son Jairo and his mother in Typhoon Haiyan which hit the Philippines last month.

Mr Halfon praised the Filipino community in Harlow who organised a fundraising event at the PAH social club to help the surviving victims of the typhoon, including Mr Ducusin's wife, Mary.

Meanwhile, Harlow Town FC footballers will play a Filipino Select team made up of players from across various Filipino communities in the area in the second of two basketball games at Harlow Leisurezone on Saturday, December 14.

The first game tips off at 5.40pm and the second at 7.30pm. Tickets for both games are £5 with proceeds going to help the typhoon victims.

Scouts receive awards for their hard work

A HARLOW Scout was recognised for his achievements at The Essex Scouts County Awards Day.

Harry Tennison, 17, was presented with the Chief Scout Platinum Award after completing various challenges.

He said: "To complete my award I had to do a community project which involved planting trees at Risdens campsite.

"Also in Harlow we have a new Muslim Scout group and I visited them at their mosque. It was great to work with different cultures and dispel the myths."

The Harlow district had 23 young people at the awards. They were all presented with a certificate marking their achievements by County Commissioner Richard Baker.

Postman is spared jail after thefts

A LIGHT-fingered postman who stole from parcels and then damaged a door window belonging to Royal Mail after being caught out has been spared jail.

Barry Fitzgerald, 53, of Bromley Close, Harlow, pleaded guilty at an earlier hearing to charges of criminal damage, three thefts and one of opening six postal packets containing DVDs.

He was given an eight-week sentence which was suspended for 12 months. He was also ordered to complete 100 hours of unpaid work and pay £219.95 compensation, costs of £1,500 and a victim surcharge of £80.

Benjamin Waidhofer, representing the Royal Mail, told Chelmsford Magistrates' Court that among the items stolen was a book signed by Alan Titchmarsh, a greetings card and cheque, 67 energy saving light-bulbs and a Lovefilm packet containing two DVDs.

The court heard that a Royal Mail investigator attended a property in Harlow and found items including the lightbulbs.

Later, when he was approached by the investigator back at the depot, Fitzgerald walked away and kicked out at the glass panel which was damaged.

After he was arrested Fitzgerald was taken to Harlow Police Station where he admitted taking one Lovefilm postal packet containing two DVDs, a greeting card and cheque, a signed book and the light-bulbs.

Mr Waidhofer said: "He said he opened the Lovefilm packet to watch the DVDs before planning to return them. He said he had a drink problem."

Andrew Clowser, representing Fitzgerald, said in mitigation: "His marriage was in trouble and his wife reported him. He was hitting the bottle and not in a very good place."

Passing sentence, chairwoman of the bench Lesley Long told Fitzgerald: "You were in a position of trust and deprived people of their rightful goods on more than one occasion but you co-operated fully with the investigation."

SCHOOLNEWS

Nursery party is a hive of activity

BUSY BEES NURSERY

Children and staff dressed up as bees to celebrate the nursery's 30th birthday.

Parents were invited to a tea party which included a bee cake, treats and tea as well as garden games and, to end the celebrations, a birthday disco.

Harlow Council chair Linda Pailing also visited the nursery in The Greenway at Harlow Business Park to join in the celebrations.

The nursery, which was founded in 1983, joined forces with Usbourne books who arranged for storytellers to read their forthcoming book Bee Makes Tea to the youngsters.

Nursery manager Kim Shinn said: "Every special occasion needs a special dress code, so to ensure our birthday went off with a buzz everyone was invited to dress up in their favourite bee costumes."

"The children really enjoyed the story session and they had a great time playing games."

Christmas boxes for less fortunate

SAINT NICHOLAS SCHOOL

Pupils at the independent school collected 90 gift-filled boxes for Operation Christmas Child - a record number for the school.

The lower school filled shoeboxes with gifts, treats and stationery which will be sent to underprivileged children abroad.

Admissions secretary Julie Bradley said: "We do this every year with our students and the children did really well. This is the best year we have had."

"It's a learning experience as well and it is nice for them to realise that not every child has the advantages that they have. Our children love taking part and making up their boxes."

She added: "The upper school also did something similar and collected small items that we have collected together. They will be sent to an orphanage in Africa that we help every year."

Latton Green boys are undefeated

LATTON GREEN PRIMARY SCHOOL

The Year 5 and 6 school football team has been crowned Harlow Primary School Champions after beating the competition at a football tournament held at Mark Hall for qualifying primary schools across the town.

The Latton Green team then went on to represent Harlow in the Outer Essex Finals in Colchester alongside 15 other teams.

The youngsters remain undefeated and will now play as winners of Outer Essex Schools in the county finals to be played in February at the Arsenal FC Academy Dome in Walthamstow.

PE co-ordinator Liz Hazlehurst said: "We are very proud of our football team."

"We always knew the boys were talented but their passing and team work was outstanding in both the local and county competitions."

Council to start collecting food waste from flats

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

PEOPLE living in blocks of flats in Harlow will soon be able to recycle their household food waste.

Harlow Council is rolling out a separate food waste collection scheme in two phases starting tomorrow (Friday) in a bid to send less waste to landfill.

Residents whose homes are included in the first phase should have already received kitchen caddies along with an information leaflet explaining what waste can be recycled.

Large green communal food waste bins into which residents can empty their caddies have been delivered to blocks of flats. These will be emptied weekly.

The second phase is scheduled to start in the new year.

People living in houses have been able to recycle food waste since 2009. The new service, which has been funded with a Government grant, will enable a further 8,000 Harlow residents to take part.

Waste that could be recycled or reused and ends up at landfill adds to Harlow's share of the Essex landfill tax bill. For the first six months of this year the town's bill almost reached £500,000.

Councillor Phil Waite, Harlow Council's portfolio holder for environment, said: "Every year millions of tonnes of food waste is thrown away in the UK and sent to landfill sites. It is important that we divert as much waste including food from landfill as possible.

"The residents of Harlow are making a good effort to recycle but we need everyone to do more. We are doing our bit to help residents by successfully securing money to provide new services like this.

"Unfortunately in Harlow we are seeing an increase in people putting food waste in normal recycling bins which is causing contamination. Food waste cannot be recycled this way.

"The separate food waste collection service is easy to use and any leftover food will not go to waste but be used to produce new energy and grow more food.

"The more we recycle food correctly the less waste we have going to landfill. This helps reduce greenhouse gases and keep landfill taxes down. Council taxpayers end up footing the local landfill tax bill, so not wasting food and recycling leftovers helps to keep costs down for everyone."

More information on the scheme can be found at www.harlow.gov.uk/food.

Businesses given a taste of Labour's plans for economy

BUSINESS owners in Harlow took part in a business breakfast hosted by Labour shadow minister Toby Perkins.

The Chesterfield MP spent the morning's event, jointly organised by the town's chamber of commerce, discussing enterprise, skills and economy.

Mr Perkins then visited Parndon Mill with Suzy Stride, Labour's Parliamentary candidate for Harlow.

Mr Perkins said: "It was a really great morning in Harlow, holding a small business consultation with the Harlow Chamber of Commerce and visiting creative small businesses.

"There is a real sense that some big businesses have left Harlow and this has left a big gap in terms of the local economy infrastructure which has an impact on the whole economy.

"You need a government that actually believes in working with businesses to save jobs locally, a Labour government will do that."

Ms Stride said: "It was great to have Toby Perkins with us at Labour's Small Business Breakfast.

"From cuts to business rates, and a commitment to create a generation of local banks to increase access to finance, such policies would see small businesses receive the support they need."

Minister visits station to talk to firefighters

FIREFIGHTERS in Harlow welcomed Communities and Local Government Minister Brandon Lewis when he joined local MP Robert Halfon on a visit of the station.

Mr Halfon had asked the minister to speak to fire officers on issues regarding pensions, fitness and resources.

Mr Lewis, who is responsible for the fire service, said: "This was an important visit as I was able to meet with management and crews to have a full and frank discussion about issues over pensions and other matters. "I know that the Harlow fire service is hugely respected and is a model example for many others.

"I was glad to be able to hear the views of officers and crew as it is important in developing policy."

Mr Halfon said: "Many firefighters have real concerns and I wanted the minister to hear their views."

The £400,000 dinosaur

FACTfile

Diplodocus was a long-necked, whip-tailed creature measuring about 27 metres with an eight metre long neck and a 14 metre tail. However, its head was less than one metre in length.

It was among the longest land animals ever to have lived on Earth.

Its front legs were shorter than its back legs and all had elephant-like, five-toed feet. One toe on each foot had a thumb claw, probably for protection.

A fossilized Diplodocus skin impression reveals that it had a row of spines running down its back.

THE skeleton of a dinosaur that lived on Earth more than 100 million years ago has been sold for £400,000.

The remains of the diplodocus, which measures 17 metres in length, were found in a quarry in the United States of America and then assembled in Holland.

It is thought to be one of only six relatively complete specimens in the world.

The fossilized skeleton, nicknamed Misty, was discovered by the teenage sons of a German palaeontologist. They had travelled to the US to help their father dig up a different skeleton before being allowed to try to find their own fossils. It was then they came across the dinosaur.

The skeleton was sold at an auction in West Sussex last week. Although the identity of the buyer is not known, it is believed the remains will be put on public display.

We've got the power to light up Christmas

A CROWD of thousands were left in the dark for 15 minutes when a power outage forced the Sawbridgeworth Christmas lights switch-on to be delayed.

Santa was on hand, however, to entertain during the interlude at last Friday's two-hour extravaganza.

Police estimated that around 3,500 people turned out for the festivities in Bell Street, which were hosted by Heart (Essex) radio breakfast show presenters Martin and Su.

In the build-up to the switch-on, a variety of talented youngsters entertained the crowds with singing and dancing. People also had the chance to browse charity stalls, while shops remained open late.

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Children were entertained by fair rides and characters from the cast of this year's Rhodes panto. A food festival took place in the Memorial Hall.

After the problem was fixed the lights were turned on by the great grandchildren of mayor Cllr Angela Alder.

Cllr Alder said: "I would like to express thanks to my fellow councillors for their scene shifting and marshalling, the local police for their support and all the local people who helped create an atmosphere of joyful anticipation for a happy community event in our town. It was certainly the best ever."

There's so much to offer this Christmas at the Harvey Centre

WIN One year's membership of Mumpreneurs Networking Club

ARE you a Harlow-based mum in business? If the answer is yes, the Mumpreneurs Networking Club Harlow and Epping is giving you the chance to win great prizes.

Mumpreneurs Networking Club is a friendly, business networking group for mumpreneurs and those who want to reach them. It is well placed to support business mums throughout its network at grass roots level.

There are groups in 17 locations across the south-east, including Harlow and Epping which is headed up by local business woman Yvette Ankras, director of Ankras Associates. She launched the group in September with the support of Harlow Playhouse.

To enter this prize draw you must be based in Harlow and have been in business for at least one year. The winner will receive:

- One-year membership to Mumpreneurs Networking Club worth £156 which includes access to meetings nationwide and perks such as free web hosting for six months.

- Business coaching support from Ankras Associates worth £497 (six sessions).

- A gorgeous hamper of locally made preserves from MNC member Eagle House Preserves – just in time for Christmas! “I’m thrilled to be able to help another Mumpreneur with this competition prize,” said Yvette. “The lucky winner will get to start their 2014 with true business momentum.”

Even if you are not lucky enough to win this business development package you can still benefit from the MNC. If you would like to promote your business and raise your profile you can go along to one of the meetings.

“It’s amazing what can be achieved over a morning cup of coffee,” said Yvette. “Our meetings are held after school drop-off and in term times. First meetings are with our compliments; thereafter, you can pay as you go or sign up for all the benefits of becoming a member.”

“It is open to all – you don’t have to be a mum or female but you do need to be serious about effortless, effective networking and making mutually beneficial connections.”

The group’s next meeting is at 10am on December 10. For more information visit www.agoodgossip.co.uk or www.ankrasahassociates.co.uk

To enter the prize draw send your details to competitions@hertsessexnews.co.uk, making sure you put ‘Star Mumpreneurs’ in the subject line, by Friday, December 13. Include your name, the name of your business and the year it was launched, your address, telephone number, email address and website details. The winner will be chosen at random and notified by Wednesday, December 18.

Terms & Conditions

By entering the competition you agree to be contacted by Ankras Associates and The Mumpreneurs Networking Club. Your details may be shared with MNC Harlow & Epping. If you DO NOT wish this to happen please add the words ‘No Contact’ in the subject line of your email. Membership is valid from January–December 2014. Coaching sessions must be taken by March 31, 2014. The delivery of the hamper will be arranged before December 24.

WIN Tickets to Disney's Frozen

DISNEY’S latest animated adventure Frozen – an epic journey involving Everest-like conditions – opens at cinemas tomorrow (Friday).

Summer in the kingdom of Arendelle has just turned unseasonably cold. As an eternal winter grips the land, young Anna (Kristen Bell) realises who’s responsible. Her sister Elsa (Idina Menzel) has been cursed from birth with the dangerous ability to create ice and snow.

Now Anna must track down Elsa in a race against time to save the kingdom.

Joining her on this quest are rugged, ice-harvesting mountain man Kristoff (Jonathan Groff) and his mangy yet big-hearted and loyal reindeer Sven.

Along the way they encounter ice monsters, wolves, trolls and a lovable, accident-prone talking snowman named Olaf.

This week we are giving you the chance to win a pair of tickets to see the film at Cineworld Harlow and a goody bag containing a beanie hat, Olaf USB stick, a sticker page and a Frozen notebook. Three runners-up will each receive a pair of tickets.

To enter, answer this simple question: Which actress voices the character of Anna in Frozen?

You can email your answer to competitions@hertsessexnews.co.uk making sure you put ‘Star Frozen’ in the subject line. Alternatively, enter online at www.harlowstar.co.uk/Whats-On-Leisure/competitions and follow the entry instructions.

The closing date for entries is Tuesday, December 10.

Caring Maureen a 'mum' to more than 500 youngsters

A FOSTER carer from Harlow who has given a home to more than 500 youngsters over a period of more than 45 years has been presented with a special award.

Maureen Cushing, 63, is the longest serving foster carer in the region.

"It is an amazing feeling to be helping children of all ages," said Maureen, pictured right. "I would encourage others to find out more about fostering."

"We're planning to do at least 50 years."

Maureen was one of 27 carers to receive long service awards from Jenny Boyd, director for

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

local delivery of services for children, young people and families at Essex County Council, and Stephanie Bishop, head of fostering, adoption and external placements, during a ceremony held at the St John's Arts and Recreation Centre in Old Harlow.

These included four families who had fostered for 25 years and two families who have given over 30 years of service.

Councillor Dick Madden, cabinet member for children and families at ECC, said: "I would like to sincerely thank all of our long-servers for the difference they have made to the lives of the children in their care."

"Essex County Council needs more people to apply to foster as each year a number of foster carers retire and need to be replaced. If anyone would like to find out more about fostering then I'd strongly encourage them to log on to our website or call our Freephone number."

For more information on fostering, visit www.essex.gov.uk/fostering or call 0800 801 530.

Work starts to upgrade climbing wall at town's outdoor pursuits centre

WORK has started on turning the climbing wall at Harlow Outdoor Pursuits Centre into one of the best equipped in the region for both experienced and novice climbers.

Three of the wall's four climbing faces will be closed for three weeks. However, the smallest face and the bouldering facility will remain open to the public and regular groups at a reduced price.

The new-look wall at the centre in Burnt Mill will reopen on December 23.

The redevelopment is a response to feedback from climbers who believe it should evolve into a fully heated year-round visitor attraction.

The 14-metre high walls and 100 climbing 'lines' are to be redecorated and new routes added to improve the climbing surface and overall appearance.

To encourage visitors to make the most of the facility, more courses and coaching will be made available for both individuals and groups, including bouldering or lead climbing for novice and experienced climbers.

Essex county councillor John Jowers, cabinet member for libraries, communities & planning, said: "Climbing is for everyone, not just experienced climbers. We'll be able to cater fully for all of our visitors at what is going to become one of the best-equipped centres in the region."

Police to wear cameras when called to investigate reports of domestic abuse

POLICE officers in Essex will soon be equipped with body-worn video cameras when they attend reports of domestic abuse.

A number of response officers will be fitted with cameras attached to their uniforms to enable them to film what happens when they attend the scene of a reported incident.

Cameras have been used inconsistently by various different departments in the constabulary since 2010 but the latest move has been driven by Chief Constable Stephen Kavanagh.

He said: "Using these cameras will increase the evidence captured in domestic abuse investigations and help support the force's drive to have more successful prosecutions of offenders where victims are reluctant to give evidence in court."

During the summer the number of reported incidents of domestic abuse in the county reached 100 per day. The number has risen in the past three years from 7,437 in 2010-11 to 8,676 in 2012-13. The increase is believed to be down to the willingness of victims coming forward.

Nick Alston, police and crime commissioner for Essex, said: "On average there are 20 crimes of domestic violence recorded in Essex every single day. For complex and varied reasons, victims of domestic abuse are sometimes reluctant to give evidence against the person who has caused them harm."

"Equipping officers attending domestic abuse incidents with body worn cameras means that evidence will often be captured automatically and directly."

Curtain up for a month of mayhem and merriment

THE cast of this year's Playhouse panto are counting down to the start of Christmas as they prepare for tomorrow's opening night.

It promises to be a magical month of mayhem and merriment as audiences are treated to the tale of Dick Whittington. And with tickets selling fast, there are sure to be enthusiastic audiences joining in the fun.

Topping the bill are children's television star Rebecca Keatley, who appears in CBeebies' Let's Play, as Dick and Jen Pringle, presenter of Channel 5's milkshake!, as the magical Fairy of the Bells.

They will be joined by a cast of 18 theatre professionals alongside 24 of the best young talent from the area.

Playhouse manager Scott Ramsay said: "We pride ourselves on telling a strong story, adding new twists and turns that entertain and surprise in equal measure.

"The traditional panto approach is to shipwreck Dick in Morocco after suffering a maritime storm. With the upcoming World Cup in Brazil and the Olympics, we've spiced up the story with a thrilling Pirates of the Caribbean-inspired sequence, landing Dick on the beaches of Rio de Janeiro during the exciting carnival."

Rebecca said: "Dick Whittington is one of the few pantos to be inspired by an English story. What's lovely for audiences is the historical link between the real person and this part of the UK. It's really exciting to be playing the part here."

Jen added: "We've great surprises in store, even for those who think they know the story. For example, my character magically transforms one of her fairies into a cat, and, having secured a third-generation Russian circus aerialist to play Dick's feline companion for the production, unexpected thrills are guaranteed along the way."

Clr Jean Clark, Harlow Council's portfolio holder for community and wellbeing, added: "With our panto becoming more and more popular we continue to present bigger and better shows every year.

"We're delighted to be bringing another sensational show to Harlow."

>> Dick Whittington opens tomorrow (Friday) December 6 and runs until Sunday, January 5. Ticket prices range from £9-£22, with family tickets available for some performances at a cost of £52-£60. Call the box office on (01279) 431945 for full details of prices and availability or check the theatre's website at www.playhouse.harlow.com.

what's on

ST JOHN'S ARC
St John's Walk, Old Harlow
(01279) 442447

MUSIC If brass music is close to your heart then head on down to the ARC on Sunday. Harlow Brass Band will be performing a selection of Christmas music under the direction of Chris Johnston. In October the band took part in the Brass Band Entertainment Contest at Woodstock near Oxford - the first time it has entered a competition for more than 10 years - and won second prize. Sunday's performance starts at 7.30pm and admission is £5 on the door.

THE GALLERY
Parndon Mill, Harlow
(01279) 426042

ART This year's Present Arts exhibition features a collection of works of art and crafts which are a pleasure to look at, to possess or to give as special presents. The artists who have studios at the Mill are represented along with regular exhibitors of ceramics, glass, jewellery, paintings, sculpture and prints. The exhibition runs until December 23. The gallery is open Tuesday to Friday from 10am-5pm and on Sunday from 2-4pm. Admission is free.

GIBBERD GALLERY
Civic Centre, Harlow
(07530) 048739

ART The town centre gallery is the first in Britain to host The Lost Modernist, a retrospective exhibition of large scale textile hangings by Festival of Britain artist and local tutor Michael O'Connell. The exhibits, which have never before been seen in a single collection, show the resist dye batik method he created. The Lost Modernist runs until December 20 and entry is free. Special workshops will be held on Saturday (December 7) - call the gallery for details.

Adventure and magic at Victoria Hall

THE story is known all over the world and now the Victoria Hall Performing Arts Association is bringing The Nutcracker Prince to the stage locally.

The dazzling Christmas show based on the story The Nutcracker and the Mouse King is directed by Harlow Theatre Company stalwart Paul Johnson.

It will be performed throughout the festive period with a week of evening performances and three matinees.

Paul said: "I am always on the lookout for stories that have an element of adventure and magic. The Nutcracker Prince has both in spades with plenty of sword fights and a beautiful story and it is set at Christmas time so it's just the perfect Christmas show.

"We first performed this 14 years ago when I wrote this adaptation and we hope that audiences will be just as enchanted as they were then."

The cast is made up of more than 20 people.

Paul said: "My wife is directing, my son is in lighting and my daughter is performing and there are many others.

"We have a great production team. It's a fantastic adventure story, not a ballet in any sense.

"It's a play for all the family. There's a fair amount of action too and some of the sword fights are as good as many people will have ever seen at Victoria Hall."

>> The Nutcracker Prince opens

next Thursday (December 12) and runs until Saturday, December 21. Performances start at 7.30pm and matinee shows start at 3pm. Tickets cost £11 (£9 for concessions) and are available from the box office on 0844 8700 887 or by visiting victoriahalltheatre.ticketsource.co.uk.

Students given a lesson in dance from TV talent finalists Twist and Pulse

DANCE students from Harlow-based Hip Hop Pop had the chance to take part in a workshop with Britain's Got Talent finalists Twist and Pulse.

The dancing duo of Ashley and Glen took charge of two sessions in the Studio theatre at Harlow Playhouse, one for 6-15 year-olds and the second for members of Hip Hop Pop's adult group.

Jenny Bater, who runs Hip Hop Pop, said: "The guys have such a fabulous way with the children and are brilliant role models promoting street dance and staying healthy and having fun with it.

"The students also made me extremely proud. They were so well-behaved with bundles of energy bursting from every one of them. We can't wait to have the guys back with us in the new year."

The students were taught a routine danced to Tinie Tempah's Trampoline and were then given a demonstration of Twist and Pulse's own dancing skills.

Drive to stop paving over the nation's front gardens

GARDENING TIPS by Hannah Stephenson

HAVING a place to park a car by your home is important, there's no arguing that. But is it more important than having an open green space to welcome you, visitors and nature to your front door?

As traffic increases and time-hungry householders opt to pave or concrete their driveway to avoid garden maintenance, there's little doubt the state of our front gardens is spiralling downwards.

Yet, points out horticulturist Joe Swift, pictured right, the front garden should be the first point of a welcoming haven.

Swift, one of many gardening experts appearing in Great British Garden Revival - a new 10-part BBC2 series starting on Monday - visited one such haven in award-winning Rockcliffe Avenue, Whitley Bay, north Tyneside, where residents have transformed their paved street with colourful plants and containers overflowing with flowers.

The result isn't just aesthetic. Residents have also reported a much greater sense of community, with kids no longer 'causing havoc' in the street and people no longer dropping litter.

"A lot of people just concrete or pave their gardens over and just forget about the plants, but research shows how important plants are in reducing pollution, for wellbeing and house prices," says Swift.

Creating a planting buffer between your home and traffic is also like putting a filter paper between you and the pollution, explains Rob MacKenzie, professor of atmospheric science at Birmingham University.

"If you put plants very close to the traffic then they have a greater chance of soaking up the pollution and making a significant reduction, perhaps as much as 10 or 20 per cent," he explains.

Some three-quarters of households in Britain have cars - 40 per cent of those have two cars

- and the increased use of concrete or paving to accommodate them has led to huge drainage problems in some areas.

Swift says there are products out there which can accommodate both plants and vehicles. In the BBC programme, he looks at reinforced hexagonal plastic mesh which goes into the ground, and you can park your car on it when it has been filled with either gravel or plants. You lay it by firstly putting landscaping fabric over the soil to allow water to drain through and suppress weeds. Then place a layer of sand on to the fabric and embed your mesh into it. Then you fill your hexagonal slots with loamy topsoil and sand, which is perfect for sowing grass seed. Sow the seed in late summer, early autumn or spring. Before long, the grass will be growing above the mesh, but you can drive a car over it.

Alternatively, use gravel or use a combination of gravel and grass seed or other low-growing plant, like thyme or camomile.

"It's a way of softening the ground but still making it durable and tough enough to drive a car on. There are several products out there and you can get them online."

Herbaceous ground cover like hardy geraniums and alchemilla mollis are pretty tough and can easily be incorporated into many front gardens, he notes.

"If your front garden is in a shady area you could go for plants like hostas and ferns, anything that can take a bit of a battering and which you can get into the ground."

He also recommends planting strongly scented plants in your front garden such as Christmas box, a really tough evergreen which you will notice as you enter or leave your front garden every day.

"Wintersweet is another good scented plant, as are a lot of winter flowering viburnums which can fill the whole street with an incredible fragrance."

■ Joe Swift appears in the first episode of Great British Garden Revival, starting on BBC2 on Monday at 7pm.

A tale to warm the heart

FROZEN
certificate PG, 1h48m

LOOSELY based on The Snow Queen by Hans Christian Andersen, Frozen proves that Disney's animated heroines have unquestionably come of age.

Long gone are the rose-tinted days when princesses waited patiently for Prince Charming to sweep them off their feet or save them from some grim fate. Now, independent and self-assured heroines are just as smart and resourceful as their male contemporaries... and they don't need the love of a man to affirm their self-worth.

Frozen is a terrific fairytale adventure that melds old-fashioned values with state-of-the-art visuals and a rousing musical score with infectious songs by husband-and-wife team Robert Lopez and Kristen Anderson-Lopez.

Every beautifully coloured and crafted frame is crammed with wit and joy, drawing in audiences of all ages to the story of two sisters battling against both the elements and their fears to claim their rightful place on the throne.

Director Jennifer Lee and Chris Buck don't let the pace flag and the 108 minutes pass in a blur of laughter, tears and frost-bitten action sequences, that look especially stunning in 3D with all of the computer-generated snowflakes fluttering just in front of your face.

You won't need to wrap up warm though because the story casts an irresistible warm glow to thaw even the most cynical and jaded heart.

As children, Anna (voiced by Kristen Bell) and Elsa (Idina Menzel) love to play together, taking full advantage of Elsa's ability to create ice and snow from her fingertips. When an accident late one night almost ends in disaster, the King (Maurice LaMarche) agrees to wipe Anna's memory so she forgets about her sibling's hidden talents.

At the same time, Elsa retires from public gaze, fearful that she will hurt someone else with her powers.

When the King and Queen are subsequently lost at sea, Elsa reluctantly emerges to claim the throne. Unfortunately, on her coronation day, her gloves come off and the locals witness her powers, branding her a witch and forcing her to flee into the snowy mountains to live alone in a castle of ice.

Anna gives chase, leaving the kingdom in the hands of her trusted sweetheart Prince Hans (Santino Fontana). As she ascends towards Elsa's hideaway, Anna meets hunky ice trader Kristoff (Jonathan Groff), his loyal reindeer Sven and a blissfully naive talking snowman called Olaf (Josh Gad).

Frozen is one of the best animated features to canter out of the Disney stable in years. Warm-hearted, uplifting and constantly surprising, it's a timeless fable that will appeal to both boys and girls thanks to uproarious comic relief from Olaf (who is too cute for words).

Bell and Menzel add vim to their plucky heroines, the latter singing the film's stand-out song Let It Go.

As an added treat, Frozen is preceded by a black and white Mickey Mouse short, Get A Horse, that seems to hark from a bygone era but has a wicked sting in the tail.

HOMEFRONT
certificate 15, 1h40m

SYLVESTER Stallone remains firmly behind the camera as screenwriter of this serpentine thriller based on the novel of the same name by Chuck Logan.

He hands over leading man duties to his Expendables co-star Jason Statham and the London-born action man reciprocates with a typically muscular, brooding performance that requires him to single-handedly take down an army of gun-toting adversaries while protecting a little girl from harm.

Director Gary Fleder elevates the pulpy source material with assured action sequences and populates smaller roles with talented supporting cast, capable of bringing characters to life in a single scene. He is also blessed with an impressive child actor, Izabela Vidovic, whose emotionally wrought performance even manages to wring a few tears out of Statham. Wonders will never cease.

Homefront opens in explosive fashion with a chaotic undercover police sting to bring down biker Danny T (Chuck Zito) and his criminal fraternity.

DEA agent Phil Broker (Jason Statham) is instrumental in the bust but Danny's son is killed during the arrest.

Phil hands in his badge and moves to a quiet, close-knit community, where Danny T will never find him, with his cherubic daughter Maddy (Izabela Vidovic).

She is a chip off the old block and when bullying classmate Jimmy (Marcus Hester) taunts her in the playground, she retaliates by punching him.

This simple act of self-defence sparks a feud with the boy's parents Jimmy (Marcus Hester) and Cassie (Kate Bosworth). They hire Cassie's no good brother Gator (James Franco), who runs the local drug trafficking operation, to put Phil in his place.

So Gator breaks into the Broker family home, kidnaps a beloved pet and gathers evidence about Phil's past as a DEA Agent.

Armed with this vital information, Gator uses his associate Sheryl (Winona Ryder) to make contact with Danny T and alert the biker to Phil's whereabouts. Thus Danny's T henchman Cyrus Hanks (Frank Grillo) and his goons arrive in town, armed to the teeth and ready to unleash hell.

Homefront is a capable, if unremarkable, yarn that plays to Statham's strengths as a man of few monotone words and bone-crunching actions.

Franco and Ryder are poorly served by their flimsy roles but Bosworth certainly makes an impact as a trailer trash mom, who believes that family honour should be upheld by taking down your opponents.

Indeed, much of Fleder's film feels old-fashioned and slightly out-dated, like a project that has been sitting on a shelf for 20 years and only now someone has decided to blow off the cobwebs and dust.

Your stars with Patrick Arundell to guide you through the week ahead

Aries 21 March - 20 April
This week's Quarter Moon might highlight a desire to get away from it all, especially if the festive bustle is becoming too much. The need for peace and quiet, plus a chance for an adventure, may be too good to pass by. On another note, you may hear news of a loan if you're currently considering a home-based project. Call me now for your financial scope in full...

Taurus 21 April - 21 May
There may be a chance to collaborate on an idea, and it could come to fruition this week. A developing Jupiter Saturn tie-up makes a firm link, suggesting that whatever you've been dreaming up may soon become a done deal. This positive transit also hints that this potentially enduring connection might be very successful. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Gemini 22 May - 21 June
This week's positive Jupiter Saturn link might coincide with good news on the job front. You may get the acknowledgement you've been waiting for. Yet, you might need to wait, as Jupiter is currently retrograde in Cancer. There's a suggestion that a start date may be further down the line, though this likely won't deter you. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Cancer 22 June - 23 July
The Quarter Moon at the start of the week may cast doubt on a plan you have in mind. Don't let someone else's fuzzy thinking prevent you from getting ahead. There may be potential on the romance front too, as an intuition could bring the realization that a relationship is well worth sticking with, whether newish or long-term. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Leo 24 July - 23 August
A sociable blend of energies early on might entice you out and about with a friend, partner or love interest. There's excitement in the air, and the potential for an evening out that has a special sparkle. Plus, this week's Jupiter Saturn tie-in may bring insights that could help you to understand a family situation in more depth. Call me now for more advice...

Virgo 24 - 23 September
Friends may have some networking suggestions for you that might be useful if you're hoping to get an idea off the ground, and out to a wider audience. Their inspiration and your determination could work wonders, and may be an aid to a successful outcome. On another note, a family get-together may bring added sparkle to a busy week. Call now for more news and advice...

Double-fronted detached in a sought-after location

coverproperty

Location Ridgeways, Harlow

Category Three-bedroom detached

Additional En suite to master bedroom, conservatory, garage

Price £315,995

Agent Geoffrey Matthew Estates, 47 High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 444988

THIS attractive double-fronted family home is at Ridgeways towards the back of Church Langley in Harlow.

The property has three bedrooms with an en-suite shower room to the master. It has been well decorated with stylish modern interiors.

A covered front entrance porch with double glazed door leads into the entrance hallway which has a ceramic tiled floor with underfloor heating.

This continues through to the kitchen/diner, with doors leading off to the lounge. There is a built-in storage cupboard and a door leading to a cloakroom.

The kitchen/diner, which is open to the conservatory, features a modern range of country-style cream eye and base level units, wooden worktops, a built-under electric stainless steel oven with gas hob and space for an upright fridge freezer and a washing machine.

There is a ceramic tiled floor with underfloor heating which leads through to the dining area and conservatory.

The dining area has a window to the front aspect and an open arch leading through to the conservatory which has French doors leading out to the garden.

The lounge is a large bright room with windows to both the front and side.

Upstairs are the three bedrooms and a family bathroom which has a claw-foot bath and stainless steel ladder radiator.

The property also has a garage and double-width drive to the side. There is a good size rear garden with an extensive patio.

This property is on the market with Geoffrey Matthew Estates. Call (01279) 444988 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

Tracey Waples
Property Editor

THERE's no hiding from it now. We're in December and Christmas is coming whether you're ready or not.

I'm firmly in the 'nowhere near ready' category, somewhere between total denial and conscientious objection. Although I know I need to get a move on and start at least a little preparation, I can't seem to muster the enthusiasm for shopping.

However, trawling the shops or internet for gifts is one thing but decorating the house is quite another. I'd be happy to arrange lights, ponder over the size and shape of tree, make wreaths, hang baubles and drape greenery for days on end – and indeed probably will do.

Decorating our home for Christmas and listening to carols while I do it gives me as much pleasure as any other festive tradition.

I do like a change, though, and will add a couple of new baubles or different coloured decorations to update an old scheme. This year the 'Scandi' look is top of my décor list which is easy as there is a great deal of it around. Simple to create, it's a mix of classic red and white gingham with pretty folk patterns which quickly gives an effective display.

If you're entertaining at home this Christmas try dressing your dining table with embroidered runners and lay them across the width of the table rather than length ways, linking the dining chairs. Combine plain white china with iced gingerbread biscuits to each setting for a festive touch.

You could also make a stunning centrepiece by wrapping a plant pot in gingham fabric and displaying it on a ceramic cake stand. Add a touch of twinkle with tea lights in glass votives decorated with simple gingham ribbon.

Maybe once the decorations are in place I will feel more like shopping...

Priced at £679,995

■ IAIN DOOLEY

THE i3 is a big deal, not just for BMW but also for the electric car industry.

Boasting an innovative approach to design and construction, this could be the car to give the electric car market the shot in the arm it needs to make the move from niche to mainstream status.

To date, early adopters have helped drive interest in electric transport. BMW is clearly keen to tap into this buyer demographic.

The bottom line is a carbon composite shell wrapped in funky-looking panels and room for four inside the radically styled - by current standards - cabin. Wood trim blends surprisingly well with the car's exposed composite shell and the liberal use of natural fibres for door panels and the top of the fascia.

Still, this window dressing would all be for naught if the i3 failed to deliver the goods in the real world. Thankfully it's not, as the electric BMW offers possibly the most rounded driving and ownership experience to date.

Granted progress is rapid in the

Fact File

BMW i3

(including £5,000 government grant)

0g/km

electric car sector, but the i3 behaves more, well, car-like than most.

Interestingly, BMW has retained its trademark rear-wheel drive layout for the i3. At a whisker under four metres, it's a genuine compact car and this is reflected in its agility around town.

With BMW's clean-sheet approach to design comes the ability to place the batteries - a 230kg slab of lithium-ion power - under the car's flat floor. This ensures maximum occupant space in the cabin, a decent size boot and a positive effect on the car's handling.

The 170 horsepower electric motor also plays a significant part in the i3's overall performance.

And you can't talk about batteries without covering the practicalities of range. BMW previously conducted detailed research with volunteers and fleets of electric 1 Series and Mini models to observe driver behaviour. As you'd expect, although the mainly urban journeys were frequent they were short. With that in mind, a real world range of around 100 miles isn't so bad.

Although different eco-centric driving modes can be selected to maximise driving range, the i3's in-built brake regeneration properties can return a meaningful amount of charge to the battery over the course of a journey.

You need to lay off the brake pedal, though, as simply easing off the throttle at urban speeds is enough to bring the i3 to a steady yet prompt halt. While that's happening, the i3's battery is getting a small but useful top up. Conversely, lean hard on the throttle and you can experience a 1 Series diesel level of brisk acceleration.

The ability to drive almost exclusively using just one pedal aside, the i3 delivers a surprisingly conventional driving experience. Largely familiar controls, a lofty driving position, good visibility and a high level of refinement go a long way to justifying the car's premium price tag and ensuring its place within the BMW family.

Of course, the financial aspect of the car should be equally appealing. The absence of road tax and fuel liabilities rank high alongside the ability to charge the car for very little - overnight via a domestic electricity supply and a matter of hours when connected to a high output wall box or public recharging point.

The i3 isn't a cheap proposition but it's a compelling one for savvy early adopters keen not just to make a statement but also to exploit the car's considerable on-road talents. Range aside the ownership experience presents few compromises worth noting.

Scrap Cars

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website.
Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Duty Manager

£17 - £19k

dependant on qualifications and experience

Harlow Leisurezone are looking to recruit a pro-active Duty Manager who will undertake a wide range of tasks delivering high quality sport and leisure services to our customers and visitors.

Duty Manager Role

This is a full time position and you will be required to undertake a varied shift pattern on a 4 week cycle in a flexible manner.

Our ideal candidate will have strong leadership skills and have the ability to plan, co-ordinate and deliver a first class leisure service to our customers. Duties will include assisting to provide an efficient and effective operation, the supervision of employees, ensuring our facility is clean, safe and well maintained including high standards of health and safety and building security requirements. The role also includes involvement in the on-site training of employees and most importantly to assist our customers with their queries or complaints in a helpful and professional manner in a busy centre.

If you are pro-active, reliable and have the ability to work as part of a team, have a calm head under pressure and able to plan ahead and possess excellent customer service and public relations skills then we would like to hear from you. Ideally you will possess, or have the ability to gain a lifeguarding qualification as this will be essential.

Harlow Leisurezone is a registered Charitable Trust and our not for profit status means that all the income we receive goes towards investing in services.

If you are interested in this opportunity please telephone 01279 621512 or email lborthwick@harlowleisurezone.co.uk for a job description and application form giving your full name and address. The closing date for all applications is 22nd December 2013. If you do not hear from us within three weeks of the closing date please assume you have been unsuccessful on this occasion. Interviews will be taking place on 3rd January 2013.

B3 Living Better Homes Communities Business

Named by the Sunday Times as the 4th best not-for-profit organisation to work for in the UK, B3Living is the largest provider of social housing in the Broxbourne area. Thousands of people benefit from our high quality homes and services.

Our Income and Welfare Team plays a critical role in our organisation – without them ensuring that our residents pay their rent, we cannot deliver any of our fantastic services. We're looking to develop this great team with opportunities at a variety of levels.

| Income & Welfare Officer £24,507 pa
| Income & Welfare Trainee £19,036 pa
| Income and Welfare Apprentice £10,000 pa

Working individually with our residents, your role will be to put them in the best possible place to ensure their rent is paid. This will include providing advice and support on welfare benefits and helping them to avoid getting into debt.

Experience is not as important as a willingness to learn quickly, and a commitment to succeed. You will have excellent IT skills and an eye for detail. The ability to communicate clearly and provide excellent customer care is essential and we will appoint you at the level best suited to your skills and experience. There will be a tailored training programme for those less experienced, and an apprenticeship for those just starting out. Use of a car is essential for the Officer and Trainee roles.

Independent Living Officers £16,195 pa pro rata

30 hours per week, 9am-3pm Monday – Friday

You will be able to work both independently and as part of a team to provide a high quality support service within our schemes and in the community. You will make calls and visits to vulnerable older people who have had a needs-based assessment, helping them to take responsibility for their own lives whilst ensuring schemes are staffed and compliant with health and safety legislation. You will require excellent customer care, administration and IT skills, alongside use of a car.

Housekeeper £12,645 pa pro rata

13 ¾ hours per week, Monday – Friday

You will be based at one of our schemes and be responsible for the cleanliness of communal areas, ensuring compliance with health and safety standards. You will monitor cleaning equipment, and carry out social activities with our residents. You will need experience of using cleaning equipment and chemicals, good communication and customer care skills and a willingness to work flexibly.

A DBS check is essential for all vacancies.

The above posts are open to flexible working arrangements. We offer a competitive benefits package including generous holiday, a personal pension scheme, private medical insurance and access to leisure facilities. Please apply online via the jobs pages of www.b3living.org.uk If you have any questions or require a paper application, please contact Human Resources on 01992 453782 or email recruitment@b3living.org.uk

Your CV

When you send your CV off to a potential employer, remember that you won't be the only one. Hundreds of other people could be applying for the job as well.

So what are you going to do to make you stand out from the crowd? Why should an employer take a chance on you instead of someone else?

Your CV is your first real chance to sell yourself to a potential employer. Most employers will scan through a CV in about 30 seconds so you need to grab their attention from the start - and make them want to invite you for an interview.

There are five main areas to consider when writing your CV:

- Make sure your CV looks the part. Your CV should look clean and tidy - don't scrawl it out on a piece of A4 paper. If you haven't got access to a PC or printer, ask a friend or use your local library. Use a good quality paper and steer clear of fancy borders and front covers.
- Watch out for silly spelling and grammar mistakes. They make you look lazy and show employers that you don't really care. It's not difficult to do a spell check on your PC and if you're really stuck then don't just guess, reach for a dictionary. Get a friend to read through your CV for you - a second opinion is always useful.
- Make sure your CV is well organised. When you list your previous jobs, make sure the dates are correct and try not to leave any gaps. If you took time out to go travelling then say so - employers won't mark you down just because you've tried something new.
- Don't waffle. Remember that employers don't have time to read every word of your CV. Long paragraphs and sentences put people off, so try bullet-points to break up text. Make sure your CV is no longer than two pages long - employers don't want your life history, they just want to see that you've got what it takes to do the job.
- Don't list any failures. Employers have enough trouble finding someone who is right for the job - they don't need help finding reasons not to employ you. If you have to include a mistake from your past, make sure you show the employer that you learnt something from the experience.

Keep it simple

Personal details

Start off with your full name, address, home and mobile phone numbers and email address. If you are offered an interview, the employer will want to get hold of you so give him as many options as possible.

Summary/professional profile

This is the No1 area for selling yourself. Set out your main skills and personal qualities but keep it interesting and tight - one paragraph should do to cover everything.

Education and qualifications

List your qualifications and education history, with the most recent first. You don't need to list the grades for each exam you have passed unless they were exceptional results - simply listing the number and type of exams you've passed is fine. Also, list any relevant professional organisations you belong to and training courses you have been on.

Work experience

Start with your most recent position and work backwards, giving addresses along with start and finish dates. Set out your main responsibilities, duties and most importantly achievements, along with any skills you picked up or improvements you made while you were there. This is a really important section in your CV so make it count - but don't waffle.

If you have not had a full-time job before, detail any part-time jobs you may have held or any placement you have been on.

Other skills

Set out any computer skills you may have and the software you are most familiar with. Can you type, do shorthand or speak a foreign language fluently? If you have a driving licence, let the employer know. If it's clean, tell them.

Interests & hobbies

Briefly list what you get up to in your spare time. Put down any positions you hold in clubs or associations, along with any responsibilities and achievements.

References

Make sure you have at least two people (including one from your previous or current job) who will tell an employer what a thoroughly nice person you are and what a potential asset to the company you would be.

If you want to list them now make sure you include their name, job title, postal & e-mail address and contact phone numbers. Alternatively, just put "Available on request" so the employer knows to follow up references at a later date.

Add a covering letter

The main aim of a covering letter is to encourage an employer to give you a chance. You want them to read your CV, so sell it to them. You should always enclose a covering letter when applying for a job - most employers won't consider you unless you do.

A covering letter should let the employer know why you are interested in the job and why you think you can do it.

The hints and tips below should point you in the right direction:

- Keep it simple. A covering letter should be short and to the point - no more than six paragraphs.
- Mention the job. If you are replying to an advert, mention what the job is and where you saw it. The company may be advertising for other positions and it may not be clear which job you are applying for.
- Sell yourself. Explain why you are the perfect candidate for the job. Show off your strengths and experience. Refer to your CV - if it goes missing then at least an employer will know that you've sent it.
- Check it for mistakes. A silly spelling mistake in a covering letter is likely to cost you your chance of getting an interview. Also, make sure it is addressed to the right person in the right department.

A covering letter can be just as important as a CV in getting you an interview. It's your first point of contact with your potential employer - so make it count.

Turn your unwanted items into cash!

easy ads In-paper and online

For items under £250 in the Herts & Lea Valley Star, Harlow Star, Mercury Series and the Observer Series

To advertise your articles for sale for the price of just a phone call or text, just follow these two simple steps...

1 Before calling us, write down all that you want your advertisement to say. There is a minimum of 12 words per advert, but you can have as many classified adverts as you need. Remember, strictly one item per phone call and the item must be priced at £250 or less. Any items received that do not carry a price will not be published.

or text 87070

Start your text with HEN then your advert to a maximum of 20 words. You do not need to add your phone number unless it is different to the mobile used to text the advert. Example: HEN (space) G. Plan two piece suite, two seater sofa and armchair, super condition £99. Charged at £1.50 per text plus normal network charges. Only one item per text.

If you have any queries relating to advertisements placed via this service please call our helpline...

Helpline: 0844 8001188

OPENING HOURS: 9am - 5pm

Please allow for a possible two/three week delay. This offer is restricted to private articles for sale and does not include articles wanted, pets, cars, motor spares, boats, motorcycles, caravans, property and investments, imitation or unlicensed firearms, offensive weapons and cannot be cancelled or amended. Advertisements will be deleted where callers name, address and telephone number have not been provided.

For articles over £250 you can also place an advert at our office or simply call 01992 526666 or email advertising@hertsessexnews.co.uk

GUNNER GO FAR: Youngsters at the Arsenal coaching session. More photos at www.harlowstar.co.uk

Passmores trialists
Gunner make way to
The Emirates

TEN youngsters having been accepted onto the Arsenal development programme after a successful trial at Harlow's Passmores Academy.

Thirty children attended the trial at the Traces Road venue on Saturday.

Co-organiser Simon Blundell said: "It went reasonably well on Saturday, we had 30 children attend, we expected a few more but we think the cold weather stopped a lot of our younger bookers attending, but we were pleased with the overall quality of the trial, with 10 of those 30 trialists being accepted into our development centre programme.

"We are holding a further open trial at the development centre itself this week and hope to welcome a few more players into our development centre this Friday (December 6) with full details on www.playthearsenalway.com."

Tag rugby converts kids to sport

MORE than 150 children from 12 primary schools braved the cold weather and descended on Harlow Rugby Club to play in the first ever Harlow School Sports Partnership Year 3 and 4 Tag Rugby festival.

The children spent the morning being put through their paces by Harlow College students and all learnt new rugby skills in a series of drills designed to develop their rugby knowledge.

In the afternoon all schools got the opportunity to put their new skills into practice and took part in a series of practice matches with everyone playing six friendly matches.

The schools taking part were Abbotswood, Church Langley, Freshwaters, Lutton Green, Milwards, Pear Tree Mead, Potter Street, Purford Green, Sheering, St Lukes, St Nicholas and Tany Dell.

George Gardiner, HSS Partnership Manager, said: "This was a marvellous event giving some younger children from Harlow Schools the opportunity to take part in a large scale sporting event at a local sports club. The event showed what can be achieved when working in partnership and I must just say thanks to Harlow Rugby Club and the Harlow College students as the event would not have been such a success without their support."

The festival was organised in partnership with Harlow Rugby Club and Andy Peasey, chairman of mini-rugby at Harlow Rugby Club. He said: "It's been a pleasure to work with Harlow SSP on this event and we hope to see some of the children who took part today down at training at the club on Sunday mornings at 10.30am."

Rockets ace Bowen handed testimonial

ANDREW FRANCAZAK

andrew.franczak@hertssexnews.co.uk

RYE House Rockets rider Luke Bowen has been awarded a testimonial meeting in 2014 for his decade-long service with the club.

Approval has been formally granted by the British Speedway Promoters Association (BSPA) to stage the event for the Harlow-born racer, a former Mark Hall School student, who first surfaced in Rye House colours as a Raider in 2002 in what is now the National League.

Six seasons at that level brought a record across 89 official matches of 739½ paid points and a 7.27 average (including bonus points), with two full and two paid maximums, plus the 2003 Fours title.

Nine successive seasons with the Rockets – the tenth in 2013 was ruled out by injury – have seen Bowen appear in 232 official matches, with 999 rides producing 1,478 paid points and a career 5.92 average that includes two paid maximums.

Bowen, dubbed 'Bowen 747' and the 'Harlow Flyer' has an incredible 2,322.5 points from his 340 total career appearances across the two Rye House speedway teams.

A Premier League champion with the Rockets in 2007, when he was a near ever-present, he has twice received the club's "Mr Rocket" rider of the year award, in 2008 and 2009.

REWARD: 'Harlow Flyer' Luke Bowen, inset and far right in action against new team-mate Eddie Kennett, has been granted a testimonial at Rye House Rockets Injuries have, however, plagued his career – most recently a broken thigh bone suffered in June, 2012 – but his sheer determination to bounce back from each setback, coupled with his engaging personality, has endeared him to the Rye House crowd.

His undiminished tenacity was evident for all to see when, during his racing comeback from his broken thigh and his lone appearance of the season, he netted a remarkable second place finish in the Silver Ski Holidays Championship individual event at Kent at the end of September.

Rye House promoter Len

Silver said: "No other rider in the modern era has worn the Rockets colours with more pride than Luke.

"We have all watched him progress from his very shaky beginnings with the Raiders to become a power-house for the Rockets at Hoddesdon.

"We've also shared his pain when injury has struck him so cruelly in almost every season, and we've all been astonished at his powers of recovery, riding on as if nothing had happened.

"Luke's bravery and loyalty over all those years certainly qualify him to be favoured with a testimonial meeting.

"I will do my utmost to make it as successful as possible for him, and I know our fans will arrive in their thousands to support him."

Bowen will be a key part of next season's Premier League team at the East Herts hub.

Meanwhile, Simon Lambert has been confirmed as the seventh and final member of Rye House Rockets' starting seven for the 2014 speedway campaign. Initially named as provisional, subject to ratification from his parent club, King's Lynn, the East Anglian side have now agreed his release.

Mighty Hawks have summit to shout about

Harlow Hawks ..... 58
North Herts Knights ..... 51
Herts Basketball League, division two

HARLOW Hawks hit the summit in division two of the Herts Basketball League after securing a 58-51 victory against fellow promotion-chasers North Herts Knights in their first home game in a month.

Knights brought a strong team to the Leisurezone for this match.

The first quarter started slowly for the Hawks who scored only six points in the first five minutes, with Knights close behind on five points.

For the remainder of the first quarter, Hawks notched up a gear and strung together 11 points with very little reply from the Knights, who were on the back foot this quarter.

Points came from Tom White, Russ Allan, Craig Lovett and Sam Kmita, but it was Roan Lenihan with a big three pointer in the last minute to end the quarter with Hawks leading 17-9.

The second quarter was a more balanced affair with the Knights trading baskets with Hawks and slowly reducing the deficit.

White had a storming game, scoring in each quarter and making use of the mis-matches inside.

Although a quiet quarter for the Hawks, they maintained their lead going into the second half and were up 28-21.

The Hawks' third quarter was their most impressive, scoring 18 points and the distribution of points came from across the team.

This was Sam Kmita's quarter by far, scoring 10 of the 18 points.

A number of them came from steals and a tough defence from Hawks who kept the pressure on the Knights throughout, shutting down key opposition players, most notably from Lee Jones.

White, Allan, Jones and Rimantas Norkeliunas were the other scorers this quarter but Kmita took the plaudits for keeping Hawks on top (46-38).

Harlow's defence was too much for the Knights and Hawks kept the lead throughout the game.

Knights managed to close the gap to four points shortly after the midway point of the quarter but Hawks managed to claw back the initiative.

Knights were unable to reply late in the quarter and Hawks were able to close out the game for another deserved victory.

Points came from Lee Morris, Jones, White and Lenihan as Hawks sealed the 58-51 victory, topping the table for the first time this season.

HARLOW HAWKS: Kmita 16 points, White 12, Lenihan 9, Allan 6, Norkeliunas 4, Stonehouse 4, Lovett 4, Morris 2, Whytock 1, Adnan and Martin.

HTC's good win

HARLOW Tennis Club's men's first team started their division two Winter League season with a 3-1 home win over Rochford.

Alex Dodd (14) made his first team debut and partnered captain Luke Spooner to a 10-1, 10-1 win.

Harlow's second pair, Harry Melluish and Dan Stevenson lost.

Harlow won 6-2 at home to Pleshy in the Essex Mixed Winter League.

Harlow's Darren Paget and his partner Karen Butler won 6-0, 6-3.

Marathon double a real Deal for Kinney

HARLOW Running Club member Andy Kinney endured an exhausting weekend by completing the Saxon Shore Marathon, a double marathon event over two days run on a tiring sandy course along the coast from Deal to Sandwich in Kent.

Kinney finished the first day in 48th place out of 50 finishers in 5 hours, 51 minutes and 29 seconds and finished the second day in 33rd place out of 49 finishers in a quicker time of 5:13.02.

At the Essex County Vets Championships, held over a hilly course at Claybury Park in Woodford, John Tennant finished in 51st place out of 189 finishers (sixth Vet 60) in 36.57 and Roy Steven was 53rd (7th Vet 60) in 37.06.

At the Chelmsford Park run 5K, Janice Page was 75th from 225 finishers and second woman Vet 50 in a superb personal best time for the distance of 23.26 and husband David was 80th in 24.03.

At the Gunpowder Park run 5K at Waltham Abbey, Paul Schroder finished in 32nd place out of 75 finishers in 24.01.

Vicky Calver finished in 1,357th place out of 1,536 finishers in 70.54 at the Greenwich 10K.

Boughtwood's four-midable form for team

HARLOW secured a brilliant 4-0 home victory against Clacton in division six south east of the East Men's Hockey League.

In-form Andrew Boughtwood followed on from his heroics last week to net another four goals.

His first goal came early on from a pass from Benn Hagger.

Shortly afterwards he scored his second, which was assisted by Robert Chandler.

His third just before half-time was assisted by Martin Cox.

The second half proved difficult for the hosts and Harlow only managed to grab one more, which was a brilliant solo goal from Boughtwood.

He tackled the opposition defence and ran through to score and top off a fine display.

Harlow are now fourth in the table, just two points off Wapping in third.

Harlow are hoping to have injured player, Cyrus Mace, back soon.

He had to be taken to hospital by ambulance after sustaining a back injury during a game last month.

He is still in hospital recovering.

"He's in quite a bit of pain and at this moment in time we don't know when he'll be out, on behalf of the club would like to wish him well in his recovery," said first team player James Munro. HARLOW: Fuller, Cox, N. Boughtwood, Johnson, Goringe, Munro, Krzoska, Hagger, Chandler, A. Boughtwood, R. Boughtwood. Subs: Gould, R. Mace, Adams.

● HARLOW Ladies lost 1-5 to Old Loughtonians who are currently second in the premier division of the Essex Women's League.

Skipper Georgina Smith said: "It was a tough game. We are looking forward to the last game this year on home turf and hopefully we can turn things around in the new year. A very disappointing season thus far."

Harlow are 11th in the 12-team table, three points adrift of third from bottom Chelmsford III.

Harlow Ladies II won 5-1 at home to Redbridge & Ilford III.

They are fifth in division four of the Essex League.

Both these teams are in action on Saturday in the final matches before the winter shut down.

Hawks call the tune at runaway leaders VCD

VCD Athletic ..... 1
Harlow Tn.....2
(Ryman Football League, division one north)

HARLOW Town made it 11 games unbeaten when they triumphed 2-1 at leaders VCD Athletic in Ryman League division one north on Saturday.

In continuing their strong run, the Hawks beat a side who had lost only one previous match in the league this season.

Delighted Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "It was a fantastic result. They [VCD] are a good side, they were not 15 games unbeaten for no reason."

"We have got a bit of momentum going at the moment. There is fantastic belief and a togetherness in the group as a whole."

"We watched VCD play Heybridge. We had a game plan of how we thought we could affect them and it worked."

Harlow included in their squad utility player Joe O'Donoghue, who has re-joined the club after he was released by Skriff North club Histon.

O'Donoghue had played for Harlow last season after he had been released by Leyton Orient.

The Hawks were without left-back Layne Eadie, as he was suffering concussion after sustaining a broken nose against Enfield Town last week.

SIGNING BOOST: Joe O'Donoghue has re-signed for Harlow Town

VCD Athletic had the better of a goalless first half.

On seven minutes, Karl Dent lobbed over the onrushing Hawks keeper Darren Behcet and his shot hit the bar before Bass Affee fired the rebound wide.

Behcet then saved well, diving to his left to deny Stuart Zanone on 24 minutes.

Seven minutes later, Behcet was controversially adjudged to have fouled Zanone in the visitors' box.

Harlow protested at the award of a penalty and Robbie Martin was booked for dissent, but Behcet saved the spot-kick.

"It was never a penalty in the first place," said the Hawks boss.

At the other end, home keeper Nick Blue saved a shot from Shane Stamp on 36 minutes.

Five minutes after the break, Stanley Muguo, making his return after a hamstring injury, came on for Stamp.

The game changed after this substitution and Alex Read came close to scoring when his shot clipped the far post on 67 minutes.

Three minutes later, Harlow went ahead.

Read's cross from the right across the box was turned in by James Smith.

The Essex side went 2-0 up on 75 minutes.

Leon Antoine's ball from the right was contested by Blue, Read and Muguo before the latter prodded home from 12 yards.

The Kent side scored a consolation in the fourth minute of injury-time from a 25-yard shot by Peter Smith.

Chapman added: "The difference is 12 points now. We still have got a month to go until Christmas."

"VCD have got Witham this weekend and then Sudbury. That's another difficult game."

"All we can do is keep winning games and things will work out."

"There is a great belief but we have to keep the players' concentration. We are looking to achieve a fantastic run and we want to keep it going. Things are looking good at the moment, we are playing good football."

Martin's caution was his fifth booking which means he will be suspended for the away game at Barkingside on December 14.

HARLOW TN: Behcet, Martin, Dadson, McLeod-Urquhart, Brown, Blewitt, Smith, Glowacki, Read, Antoine, Stamp (Muguo 50). Subs not used: O'Donoghue, Hart, D. Williams, May (gk).

● HARLOW Town have released winger Aaron Greene, who quit to get more first team football.

Former Hawks assistant boss Christian Wheeler re-joined Waltham Abbey this week.

He had left Harlow in the autumn.

Bowering scores first try in six years to fire resurgent Rams

THERE was a blip at the start of the second half but Harlow did more than enough to beat Wisbech at home.

The Rams scored six tries on Saturday, which meant they picked up a bonus point from their first win in three matches.

Harlow are now sixth in the table. Although Wisbech scored two unconverted tries on 7 and 19 minutes, their efforts were more than matched by Harlow in the first half.

Captain Shaun Roberts scored the first try after six minutes, when good passing set him up for the touch down.

Harlow 41

(RFU London division three north east)

This also applied when scrum-half Rhys Powell got the second try on 15 minutes.

Michael Dobson missed two conversions but slotted a third after Josh Drake got the third try from slick off loads.

Front row forward Mark Bowering then got his first try in six years for the Rams on 35 minutes and Dobson kicked the conversion.

Shortly before the break, Rams wing Neil McMullen ran wide to score a try which Dobson converted.

Harlow led 31-10 at half-time.

Rams senior coach Lee Harron said: "We played some fantastic rugby in the first half and could easily have scored 50 or 60 points."

The Cambridgeshire side struck back early in the second half.

They exploited poor home defence to score two converted tries.

Harlow then woke up and Dobson kicked a penalty before Neil McMullen scored a try near the end. This was converted by Dobson.

Harron added: "We should have killed it off early in the second half but we let them back into contention and that was frustrating."

"We then realised we were a better side than them."

Ex-Hawks captain's in the box seat now

BY ALAN SCOTT

alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE Hawks might be proving a real hit on the pitch but former captain Leo Roget is becoming a knock-out in the ring.

The 36-year-old ex-Southend United star has swapped football boots for boxing gloves and makes his professional debut this Saturday evening at the famous York Hall arena in East London's Bethnal Green, which has seen some classic bouts involving another Harlow favourite, Steve Murray, over the years.

Roget, who quit playing two years ago, has had three successful amateur bouts but has decided to follow in the footsteps of his pal, former Norwich and Crystal Palace striker Leon McKenzie and ex-Sheffield United star Curtis Woodhouse by switching sports and trying to carve out a career in boxing.

The former central defender, who lives in Old Harlow, is excited about making his boxing bow at such a historic venue.

Roget will fight 'Mad Max' Mitchell, from Lincolnshire in a catch weight (a weight between light heavy and cruiserweight).

He told the Star: "It's my first one. It should be interesting. Mad Max has an amateur pedigree. He has been a pro for a few years.

"It's a bit late to be starting but I have been playing football."

Roget made about 270 appearances in the Football League during his professional career.

He was at Roots Hall for six years from 1995 and made 122 appearances for the Shrimpers.

He also made 68 appearances at Oxford

ALL CHANGE: Leo Roget is pictured during one of his amateur bouts earlier this year (s). Inset, the defender in his Harlow days in 2010

United, 29 appearances for Brentford and played 22 games for Stockport County.

He played about 50 times for Harlow.

Roget enjoyed three wins at amateur level this year.

He got the boxing bug after he began training with former WBO World Champion Jason Matthews at Harlow's Ripped Gym.

He said: "I was just watching a few of the boys up there. I was doing a bit of sparring and then it got serious very quickly.

"Jason thinks I have got something. It's really grown from there, I stopped two [opponents] and I won the other on points."

If he is successful he will then decide whether to move down to fight at light heavyweight. This would mean losing about half a stone to get down to the 12 stone 7 limit. "They hit a bit harder at cruiserweight. I don't fancy that," he joked.

Roget's last amateur bout was in the summer but he is in peak condition after training hard for his first pro bout.

"This is going to be very different. To be fighting professionally at the York Hall is what people dream about.

"There's quite a few people coming down to watch," he said.

His friend McKenzie is also fighting on the same show.

He added: "The atmosphere should be good. It will be amazing. It's all about movement and balance in boxing."

Tickets are available on if you tweet Roget at @leorojet

Rams ready to rumble!

HARLOW senior coach Lee Harron feels his team can make their mark in RFU London division three north east.

The Rams are sixth in the 12-team table having won five out of 10 matches but Harron feels his side should have eight victories.

Harron, pictured, said: "We have really strong competition in some areas of the team. You know that when you have players like [lock] Mark Twiner not getting into the squad.

"Ill-discipline has cost us [in] three games and we are trying to reduce our penalty count."

He added: "We scored five tries against Beccles and still lost and we only just lost to Old Cooperians [in second place]."

The Rams face lowly Wymondham away this Saturday and the game will mark the completion of the first half of the campaign.

Harron hopes to have full-back Francis Brown back in contention for this game.

'Harlow envy of Football League with pitch'

HAWKS supremo Tom Cunningham has watched with pride as his patience and perseverance has started to bear fruit as Danny Chapman's side have steadily climbed the Ryman division one north table on the back of an unbeaten run of 10 games.

And the installation of a £350,000 plastic pitch at The Harlow Arena in the summer is beginning to prove one of the best decisions from a financial view as well.

Cunningham says the club is the envy of most Sky Bet League One and Two teams, who would like to bring in the extra revenue available from using the state-of-the-art artificial surface seven days a week.

The club has already attracted football teams, both adult and junior sides, to use the surface for training.

In terms of helping Harlow Town to promotion this season, the pitch will really start to pay off when other clubs lose fixtures to the cold and wet winter weather, while the Hawks' programme will not be affected.

"Most, if not all, League One and League Two clubs can only dream of having the facilities that we now have at Harlow because they are financially restricted. The new 3G pitch is a huge investment for us and will now enable us to drive the club forward in so many ways and give the community an enviable facility," beamed Cunningham.

On the pitch, Chapman's men became only the second team to defeat runaway league leaders VCD Athletic, when they won 2-1 in Kent on Saturday (see inside for report). Harlow host Aveley in the league this Saturday.
